

Protect your home with a system that suits you perfectly

Smart Home Alarm Kit – SR3800i

Smart Home Alarms are secure, expandable, easy to install and controllable at anytime, anywhere through your smartphone. The Smart Hub is at the heart of the connected system allowing you to add up to 40 devices to tailor your system perfectly for your home.

This alarm kit has a new hub which integrates a dual connection method which will provide you with an additional security. You can connect your ethernet/broadband cable and/or insert a sim card as a second option. There is no risk of burglars cutting wires or cutting the electric, the sim card will be an extra fail safe method. The GSM option could also be an ideal solution for summer or a second house with no internet connection. The SR3800i kit will give you additional peace of mind wherever you are.

Easy to install

The components don't require any wired connections which makes them easy to install anywhere. The components in the kits are also pre-linked to the Smart Hub, so setting up is simple.

Secure

Yale uses 868MHz technology – a frequency that is tightly controlled, making it a clearer channel with less interference to help deliver maximum performance and security.

Totally controllable

The intelligent app allow you complete access to your home security. Whether you need to check that your alarm is armed, or view images from a PIR camera, you are in total control for complete peace of mind.

Due to continuous programme of development, the Yale App user interface for this product may differ in appearance.
